OUVER resulties was the debate on the diquestion in the Hosse, on Tuenday, we not helf otherwise than gratified at the drawal of Dr. Dicksool's resolution. On approximat as abject, a mear recolution in a maintee of Ways and Means could not prove uneasitisately at the best. It is after well that, after all the smoke of saday's battle, the ameephers should be in clear, and the field open for action, subject should now be brought forward be those in a manner that will afford the cell resultant on the field of the settlement of the estimated of the settlement of the against on against the will of fand specu, on is to result in anything tangible, it as give an impetus to what has been a beer lagging element of progress,—agricural settlement. In desling with se grave subject we would ask every member of House to discard as much as possible marrow views that are occasionally impeted from older countries in reference THE LAND QUESTION the narrow news that are occasionary inported from older conatries in reference to landed property — to look at the matter in a straightforward, business light, and deal with it spart from personal consideration. We cannot shirk the subject if we would; let us postpone it for another seed on or another year, and it will come sheek upon us with an intereased force that may, like the peat up torrent, aveap crufyhing before it. We cannot browbeat or hoodwink nature. She will assert her rights and claim her dues with all the exactitude of a saurer. She is bound to have her pound of deth. When any number of men, therefore seriously contemplate sealing up the agricul taral resources of a country, in the hope that, by limiting the supply, they will increase the ed from older countries in refer treal resources of a country, in the hope that, by limiting the supply, they will increase the value of the land, they are simply committing a crime organist nature and a crime against nature and a crime against nature and a crime against contay, and the wrong recoils upon themselves. Either they drive people from the country and make the lands valueses, to they loree the population into measures that compel the dispergement of every acre that is not califirated. We sake those gentlemen in the Assembly who, unfortunately for the colony, hold large tracts of uncetitivated land, on which hors do they wish to be impaled? Unabledown from the respectable figure of first bundlered dollars per acre to as may onto five hundred dollars per acre to as may conti, because all demand has long since left, wing to the difficulty of obtaining agriculties. cents, because an expension properties of coased, the population having long since left ewing to the difficulty of obtaining agricultural land within a reasonable distance of a market and for a reasonable amount of purchase money—or de they, on the other hand expension, as weeping measure three are the coase of the market and or a reasonable under the chase money—or de they, on the other hand, wish for an extreme, sweeping measure that will make their speculations in a very little time, like the beated money terambled for in elections in days goes by, toe hot to hold? We cannot believe that either of the prospects mentioned is acceptable to those who hold largely of the pub. in domain; yes that things are approaching one or other of these conditions is toe exident to admit of daubt. Wise mea never awais the full force of danger, but meet it half way—they turn the stream while it is yet manageable, and before it has receive! all the volume of a thousand tributaries. The large landed proprisors in the House would do well to pander over this. It is even now in their power to steer between Seylla and Charpbdis; but in a little while the time of compromise shall have passed away, and they ill he aither awallowed to in the whitpool.

compromes sanitave passes of the whitipool or dashed to pieces against the took.

The people of Vancouver Island have been even years waiting for an set of justice. They have been asking that the lands of the colony be thrown open to setual settlers and to them slone. It matters set now, when the will have rise to such a being the the lands are resent held by non-produsers were first obtained; as earload obstacle, to the progress of the country interposes, and it must be removed. We shall be obliged to adopt the same means found necessary in nearly every other Britan colony, to creat the injurious tendency of agricultural land being bought and sold fer purely speculative purposes. It is a necessity which is forced upon in which we same avoid. Our evening contemporary, however, takes a different view, and in its liberty-loving sentiment regrets that the days of feucalism takes a different view, and in its liberty-loving entiment regrets that the days of feudalism are over. Burke grew elequent with the departed days of chivality; but it required Vancouver Island to produce a gains that longed for the return of seridom. The Forcouver Times is bound to make its mark in come way. It stands out in bold relief to ordinary journals, as being mindisenced by the march of events. It is the unwerring adherent and admirer of the past. We firmly believe indeed that if it could transform itself back to the times when the acciont Britons were very economically clad. itself block to the times when the accional Britons were very concominally olad, and when they adopted those pleturesque habits which are now followed out to some extent by our own Songish and Hydra, of painting the skin, it wends congratulate itself on the achievement. In his seal for feundalism overlang contemporary has been led a little away free facts; but we presente their accions Britons nor Barrel's retainers cared much for such embourh hings. It might to well, however, for this wershipper of the possible his property of the sealing the state of the sealing at the sealing sealing the Constructive with bloding extreme views, while in the same article he relievates the exact rentiments of Mr. McClure in the House of Assembly.
